Beverly Grice

Beverly discovered how much she enjoyed art when she tried watercolour painting as a fun thing to do outside of work.

Now retired, she can spend more time pursuing her passion. Beverly has found a group of like-minded people to meet with once or twice a week to keep inspired. She has explored watercolour, collage, mixed media and water media but keeps coming back to her first love, watercolour.

Beverly is inspired by Nature especially flowers, mushrooms, seascapes and landscapes mostly on the West Coast. One of her ongoing projects has been to paint her Christmas cards every year.

She has shown her paintings with local groups when opportunities arise. Most recently she had a solo exhibition in the Roberta Mickelson Gallery at the Yosef Wosk Library and Resource Centre in Vancouver.
