

So, here's my story . . .

I've been active in the Health & Fitness Industry for over 40 years (since 1979). I began by teaching fitness part-time while working full-time in the newspaper industry. I eventually left my career as a newspaper editor and switched to full-time fitness instruction and part-time journalism (I became a Freelance Health Writer). Beginning in 1985, I authored a weekly self-syndicated health column for several newspapers, including 11 years in the Peace Arch News (White Rock, BC), nine years in The Langley Times, and four years in The Surrey Leader, and I've contributed to the Province Newspaper. I wrote a regular health column for ten years for BC Woman Magazine, and I've written for many other publications. Currently, I write a monthly column for Inspired Senior Living Magazine and The White Rock Sun.

I was among the first generation of certified aerobic dance instructors in the early 1980s (later called group exercise instructors). And I am a pioneer in the Personal Training field, beginning my career long before it was a recognized occupation. We called ourselves 'One-on-One Coaches' back then. I competed as a bodybuilder (1984-1990). I've owned a Health Food Store and my own private gym. I managed two fitness centres. And I've achieved several certificates, including Certified YWCA Weight Training Instructor, Canadian Standardized Test of Fitness Appraiser (STFA, through the Canadian Assoc. for Exercise Physiology), Certified Fitness Instructor with The Alberta Fitness Leadership Association (AFLCA), Certified Personal Trainer with the Canadian Association of Fitness Professionals (CanFitPro), Certified Nutrition & Wellness Specialist (CanFitPro) and Healthy Eating & Weight Loss Coach (CanFitPro).

I've enjoyed an exciting career as a personal trainer to many from all walks of life who sought a trainer for inspiration and inspired me! Homemakers, students, athletes, CEOs, and even those more publicly known, including Publisher, Speaker and Author Peter Legge, the late Jack Poole and his wife Darlene, radio personality Bob Saye, and sportscaster Neil MacRae. I've been fortunate to meet and be inspired by them all.

A few years after I began working as a fitness instructor, I chose to educate myself in nutrition. I took courses at Simon Fraser University, S.A.I.T., and other institutes. When I began offering this nutrition information to my clients, I witnessed how a good diet positively affected their gym performance – and general well-being. Nutrition seemed a more significant factor in their good health than being physically active! By the late 1980s it was realized fitness instructors should provide basic nutrition information to their clients. I was asked by the B.C. Recreation and Parks Association (BCRPA) to offer nutrition workshops to their certified fitness instructors. In 1989, I designed a workshop, Eat to Excel, which I presented for many years in the Metro Vancouver area through adult education programs, businesses, and private groups.

I studied anatomy/physiology, nutrition, sports nutrition and exercise physiology at Simon Fraser University, University of California, S.A.I.T., Alive Academy, The Canadian Health Food Association, and Herbal Dominion College (Burnaby B.C.). You can view my detailed "resume" if you like, on the next page of this document (testimonials follow that). In addition, to renew my Certifications, I had to continue taking several courses every year offered through various organizations such as Today's Dietitian, Human Kinetics, IDEA, and CanFitPro. But my greatest source of education is my career as a health researcher and writer. I've learned much in my 30-plus years of interviewing and constantly questioning the specialists in the fitness, nutrition and medical fields.

I am the mother of two adult daughters, I'm a grandmother, and I enjoy living by the ocean in South Surrey with my husband, Lloyd. As well as my long fitness career, I practise several other professions and hobbies: Graphic design was part of my journalism studies, and I dabble part-time as a Graphic Designer for my small client base. I am also a Portrait Artist, and I combine my training in research, writing and design to produce The Artist's Journal, a listing of exhibiting opportunities for artists throughout B.C.

I play guitar, read avidly, walk everywhere, and enjoy hacking up a golf course. And I truly enjoy riding my exercise bike early in the morning while watching old black and white sitcoms. How do I have the energy for all this and pursue three different careers? I eat right!

I look forward to chatting with you soon and hearing your story.

Nutrition & Fitness Testimonials

Health Writer, Speaker & Nutrition Coach

Great advice from Eve . . . she reminded me humans were meant to eat vegetables as our primary food source. That doesn't mean you have to become a vegetarian but she said to try and change my thinking around meal planning and snacking. Start all planning with vegetables - a wide variety - and then add small portions of protein and carbs as enhancements to the meal instead of making vegetables the "add-on" . . . It's been working!
Leslie Snyder, Manning AB (2017)

Your presentation was a great success, receiving positive feedback from many members and staff of Surrey Sport and Leisure Complex. We highly recommend your presentations to corporations and people who are seeking a friendly, knowledgeable professional in the field of health, fitness & nutrition.
Jacqui Moss, Fitness Manager, Surrey Sport and Leisure Complex

As of May (a year after I started with you), I have lost 18 pounds and have been pretty well constant at that level. I haven't been this thin in 17 or 18 years and my doctor is delighted.
Marilyn McQueen

I would like to thank you very much for teaching Circuit Training and Weight Training to the people in Manning. We have received so very many compliments on your well-organized, interesting and beneficial classes. We will miss you! I wish you the best of luck in your new location in British Columbia.
Carolyn Rochon, Coordinator, Manning & District Adult Education, Manning Alberta (1985)

I attended Eve's Workshop. She presented very interesting information, some that we need to be reminded of and other information that I wasn't aware of. It was a great presentation!
Mary Lou Rust, Licensed Zumba Instructor (2015)

Your presentation was well received. Mel came up to me afterwards and said she always has butter and mayo on all her bread and to realize she could use avocado instead was really great news for her. On a personal note, I am going to try the butternut squash in the toaster!
Julie Beenham, Personal Trainer

Eve gave me plenty of great information as well as information I could share with my family. I learned about 'diets' . . . and what negative effects they have on your body.
Sue Denness

Things are going good. I'm starting to see more definition, and I do feel I have more energy!
Jordan McCready, Surrey

I thoroughly enjoyed your talk. Kevin says I haven't stopped talking about it since I got home. Since I told him about your talk, he has been following the tips religiously, especially the chewing! And I am trying to chew more also. I've already sent a note to my daughter with some of your tips, I know she will find them helpful too.
Yvonne Connelly (2015)

My friend and I enjoyed your presentation. There were many things you spoke about that were informative, thought provoking and also some really great reminders about things already known but not recently applied when it comes to eating. My favourite quote from your presentation was 'everything we put into our bodies becomes a part of us.' This alone has me reading more food labels and better yet, avoiding food with labels! At this time of year when we have gardens full of delicious fare, your advice is easy to follow. Thank you . . . your words have inspired me.
Jana Deluca (2015)

Writing Testimonials . . .

Thank God for Eve Lees, author of the Healthline column in your magazine. The information in Eve's column answered five questions that had been plaguing me for some time. I am a sixty-one-year-old woman who enjoys an active lifestyle, thanks to BC Woman's Eve Lees. There are many of us out here who need her!
Beatrice Smith, Castlegar B.C. (from a letter to the editor, in BC Woman Magazine, 1995)

Eve produces a newsletter similar to the UC Berkeley Wellness Letter – but Eve's newsletter is better!
Mark Kozlowski, B.Sc., B.Ed (P.E.), C.F.A., owner of Life Consultants, a fitness first aid and CPR training service, Delta, B.C.

It is so great not to have to do excessive editing. All I did was work with Jim (in production) on images. Thank you for your great work.
Janis Foster, Editor, Sounder Profiles Magazine (2004)

Thanks for the story and I wanted to mention I really appreciate that you include your sources at the end – few freelancers ever think to do that!
Carolyn Cooke, Editor, Now Newspaper

Keep up the great informative articles in the newspaper!
Lana Vant Erve, Manning, AB

I am benefiting from your words of wisdom . . . Excellent info!
