

Eve's Easel Talk

July-Aug Sept 1998 — Published in The Artist's Journal

If you and your family are travelling throughout BC this summer, don't forget to contact the area's Art Gallery or Arts Council (listed on page 6). They may be offering day camps or courses for adults and children, which you may be interested in. And they'll let you know of any other events missed in this issue. Check the Call for entries, or Shows and events listings for more ideas to enjoy an artistic summer.

Pick up a copy of July's Reader's Digest. On the back cover is an oil painting entitled Two Girls With Sailboat by Mission artist Ron Hedrick.

Jane Saborio is seeking artists to participate in the Tuscany Watercolour Workshop in September. She needs a few more artists for this exciting trip to go ahead. The workshop includes three days in Florence, followed by eight days in IL Mulin Del Rancone. Non-artist partners are also welcome to sight-see with the group. Call Jane at (604)596-9345. (Ask about the many other workshops she hosts on a continual basis.)

Art and Frames in Langley now offers art classes. Their art school opened April 27, and is coordinated by Kirsten Boehm, a Fine Arts university graduate. Professional artists instruct the afternoon, evening and Saturday classes in various media. Murray Phillips of Langley Art and Frames, and Grant Smith of the Canadian Picture Framer's School will offer a course on framing. Call Kirsten at Langley Art and Frames 530-4833, or the Canadian Picture Framer's School 533-5328. (For other workshops and lessons happening this summer in BC, see Shows and events.)

White Rock and area residents have a new publication to keep them informed with the arts and entertainment scene. Danielle White launched the premiere publication of Peninsula Arts and Entertainment Review with the June/July edition. It offers information on all the arts, and includes a restaurant and entertainment guide. Copies are distributed to various venues throughout White Rock, Surrey, Langley and Fort Langley. Incidentally, Danielle also produces Quest Magazine, a publication on alternative health. You can reach Danielle at 535-8822 or e-mail landing@direct.ca ✍